

Treasury Department,

BUREAU OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., November 25, 1891.

The Superintendent, U. S. Mint,

Philadelphia, Pa.

Sir:

Enclosed I send you a draft from my friend Mr. James G. Cannon, Vice President of the Fourth National Bank of New York, and one of the Directors of the Fifth Avenue Bank in that city. The Fifth Ave. bank is what is known as the ladies bank of New York, having over 3,000 women depositors. They are always anxious during the holiday season to receive new money in payment of their checks, and the bank is anxious to obtain a few new five cent and one cent pieces for these ladies. I therefore, told Mr. Cannon that if he would send me a check for $220.00, payable to your order, I would have you send him $200.00 in five cent pieces and $20.00 in one cent pieces.

I will esteem it a favor if you will send immediately upon receipt of this, to Mr. James G. Cannon, Vice President of the Fourth National Bank of New York, $200.00 in five cent nickel pieces and $20.00 in one cent bronze pieces. — new pieces.

Do not wait for the collection of this draft as it is perfectly good, and drawn on a Philadelphia bank, and I wish it sent ahead of all other orders.

Very truly your friend

Director.

220

Treasury Department,
Bureau of the Mint,
Washington, D.C.
November 25, 1891

The Superintendent, U.S. Mint,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Sir:

Enclosed I send you a draft from my friend Mr. James G. Cannon, Vice President of the Fourth National Bank of New York, and one of the Directors of the Fifth Avenue Bank in that city. The Fifth Ave. bank is what is known as the ladies bank of New York, having over 3,000 women depositors. They are always anxious during the holiday season to receive new money in payment of their checks, and the bank is anxious to obtain a few new five cent and one cent pieces for these ladies. I therefore, told Mr. Cannon that if he would send me a check for $220.00, payable to your order, I would have you send him $200.00 in five cent pieces and $20.00 in one cent pieces.

I will esteem it a favor if you will send immediately upon receipt of this, to Mr. James G. Cannon, Vice President of the Fourth National Bank of New York, $200.00 in five cent nickel pieces and $20.00 in one cent bronze pieces. – new pieces.

Do not wait for the collection of this draft as it is perfectly good, and drawn on a Philadelphia bank, and I wish it sent ahead of all other orders.

Very truly your friend,
E.O. Leech
Director.